SCHOOL TO BE LATEST IN DESIGN

New Charleroi Structure to be Up-to-Date in Every Way

PLANS ARE DESCRIBED

Will be Equipped With All Needs With Particular Care and Thoroughness

Charleroi's new school building, the foundation for which is now nearing completion, will be one of the finest and most up-to-date school buildings in western Pennsylvania, an one in which the citizens of Charleroi may well be proud. The contract for the foundation was let last fall to the Charleroi Lumber company, who are actively getting their part of the work finished. They have been somewhat handicapped by weather conditions but a few weeks of good weather will see the finishing touches put on their contract.

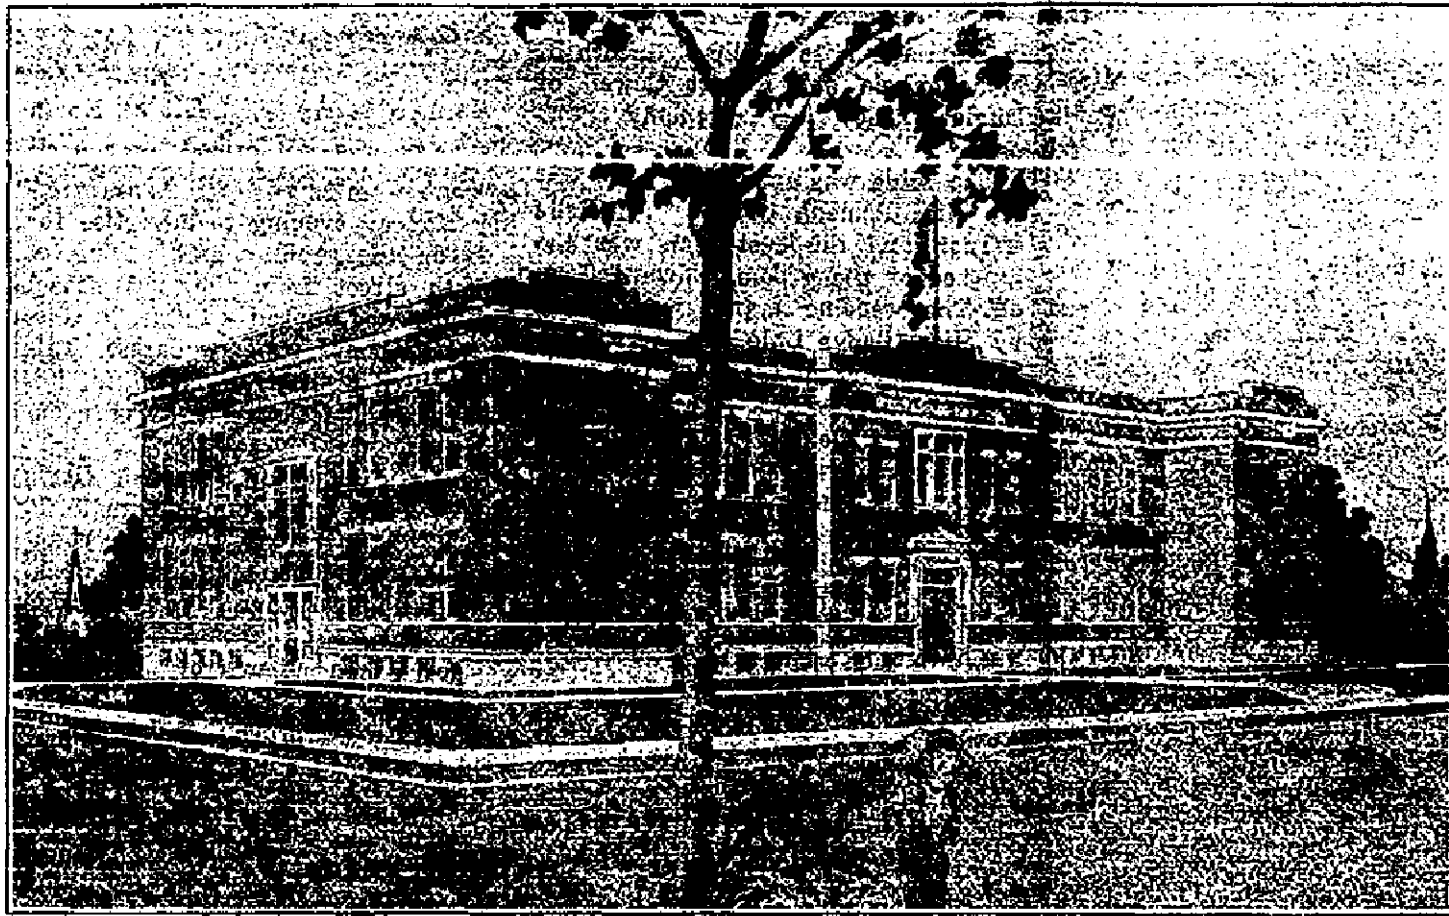

The contract for the superstructure has been awarded to the George N. Hall company of Homestead. This enterprising firm of contractors have been busy letting their sub-contractors and buying their materials and as soon as the foundation is completed expect to put a large force of men to work, and it is hoped that everything will be completed by the time school is opened next fall. The building is located at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street and from its prominent location, sitting on a hill as it does, it can be seen from almost any part of town and from points far up and down the river.

Andrew P. Cooper, of Uniontown, Pa., who is the architect of the building is one of the most experienced school architects in this state, having designed in the neighborhood of ninety school buildings since starting to practice his profession, and he has given the Charleroi building the benefit of his wide experience. The plans he has furnished the Charleroi school building call for one of the most complete and modern school buildings he has ever erected.

The exterior of the building is carried out in a Renaissance style, which is most appropriate for school buildings, having plain simple lines and large openings providing quantities of air and light. The building will be constructed of a dark red tapestry brick and the trimmings will be light colored terra cotta and limestone. The main entrance faces Crest avenue and is only a few steps above the grade. This entrance leads through a vestibule to the main corridor which is large and well lighted. Besides the main entrance there are two side entrances, two rear entrances and two emergency exits in the auditorium making eight exits from the building. All of these doors will be equipped with panic devices, which open the doors outward at the slightest touch.

At the left of the main entrance is the principal's office and the waiting room, to the right is the teachers' retiring room and supply room. On the first floor are six class rooms which vary in size to seat forty and

Charleroi's New School Building on Crest Avenue to be Model of Beauty

This picture drawn by Architect A. P. Cooper shows the Charleroi school building as it will be when finished. The main entrance will be on Crest avenue. Six class rooms, a principal's room, waiting room, teachers' retiring room and main floor of auditorium will be on first floor, and six class rooms, two science laboratories, and the balcony of the auditorium on the second floor. A large gymnasium and two manual training rooms will be in the basement.

fifty pupils. Each class room will be equipped with sanitary ventilated wardrobes. Damp clothes hung in these wardrobes will be thoroughly dried out in a few hours by the circulation of the air in the wardrobes.

At opposite ends of the main corridor are placed the boys and girls toilet rooms, which will be equipped with the most sanitary plumbing fixtures. The entrance to the main floor of the auditorium is opposite the main entrance of the building. The auditorium is quite large, contains a stage 31 feet wide, and two dressing rooms and will seat on the main floor about six hundred people and on the balcony, which is on a level with the second floor of the building, about two hundred people.

The second floor contains six class rooms, two science laboratories and the balcony of the auditorium; also toilet rooms. All public corridors throughout the building are of reinforced construction and are enclosed by hollow tile walls. The stairs are also of reinforced concrete and ornamental iron so that all means of exit from the building are absolutely fire proof. In the basement are two manual training rooms, a gymnasium 55x70 feet having rooms containing shower baths in connection. Large locker rooms are also provided for the boys and girls.

In the basement is located the heating and ventilating apparatus which is of the most modern type and especially adapted to school buildings. The temperature in all rooms is kept stationary by an automatic temperature control system and each scholar will be furnished with thirty cubic feet of air per minute. This air is drawn from the outside of the building and after being heated to the proper temperature is circulated through the rooms by means of a plan and exhausted out through ventilators in the roof. The plumbing system will be very complete and the fixtures will be of the most approved and sanitary type. Sanitary drinking fountains will be conveniently located in the corridors.

In the separate building to the right and rear of the main building will be located a hydro pneumatic deep well water system, supplying all water to be used in the building. The pump drawing water from the well

CHARLEROI TWENTY-THREE YEARS OLD TODAY; HAS EVER BEEN BUSY

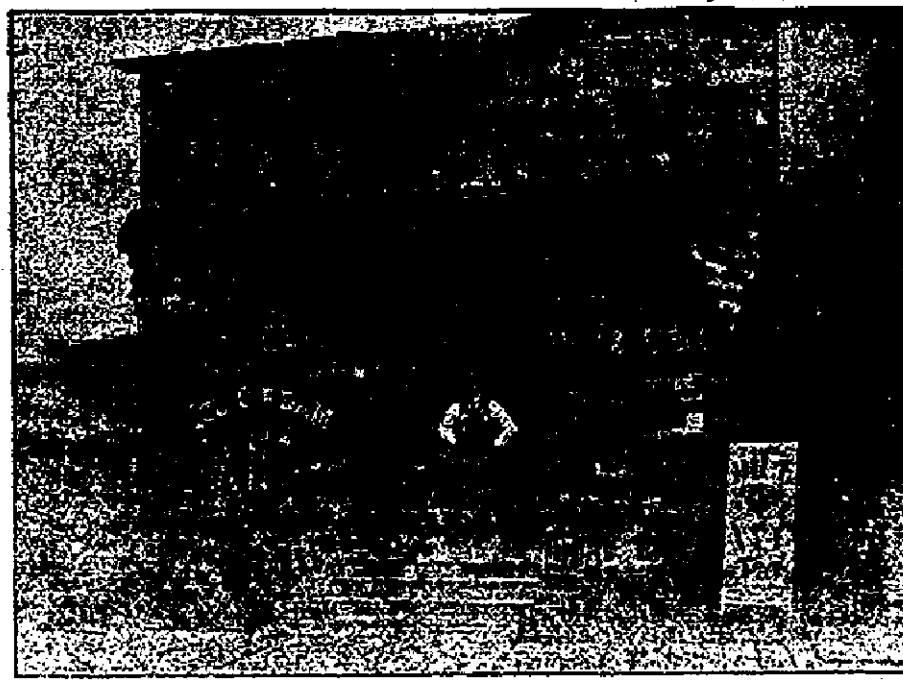

Was Founded Under Difficulties in March, 1890, When First Lots Were Sold--Named After a Belgium Town

The inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson is not the only important event of today, even if it does seem to hold supreme interest. And possibly the new president might not know it, and others might have forgotten, but nevertheless Charleroi, the "Magic City" of the richest valley in the world, is celebrating. It is 23 years old today. No special rites are arranged for today, but on Thursday night the Charleroi Business Men's Association will hold a banquet, when the history and attainments of the second largest borough in Washington county will be gravely discussed.

Past history of Charleroi is familiar history. Twenty-three years ago a sign "Railroad Crossing" distinguished the site of the town from the rest of the landscape. Haystacks wagon and buggy. Trains stopped at what is now Second street. Lots were staked off much after the manner of staking off mining claims in a Rocky Mountain gold field. Where the First National Bank now stands a concert that was not a band concert reigned. It originated from a frog pond that very much resembled a Florida swamp.

Practically the entire day was spent here. One haystack was most conveniently located. Evidently some of the buyers of lots came well provisioned with blood medicine, and retired with considerable frequency behind the haystack, from which point of vantage they took deep and judging from the happy lip smacking very appetizing doses. That cold day there were many lots and swamps were prominent. However, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company considered the location a good one for their plant, and that is what gave the town its beginning.

On March 4, 1890 the first lots were sold. The day was as cold as when Taft was inaugurated, and as windy as a cutting northwest breeze could make it. Visitors came in lots by train, by road wagon, by spring sold and it was only a few days until buildings were started.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass company got its plant in operation early. Through its instrumentality the town secured its name. Some of the first employees to work at the plant were experts from Belgium. In Belgium there is a beautiful, as well as very industrious city called Charleroi. Some of the experts were imported from there to be given jobs that local people were unable to fill in some cases as high a wage as $7 a

WILSON TAKES OATH OF OFFICE AT WASHINGTON

First Democratic President Since Cleveland Assumes Reins of Government With Today's Ceremonies

INAUGURAL PARADE IS BIG FEATURE

Washington, March 4—Promptly at noon today began the exercises by which Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated into the presidency of the United States amid the pomp and ceremony incident to the occasion, and which exceeded many of the previous inaugurations in point of enthusiasm, attendance and display. President Wilson and family made their triumphant entry into Washington yesterday, where they were most enthusiastically received. They visited President and Mrs. Taft at the White House and later the president-elect was given ovation after ovation by enthusiastic delegations, chief among which was a body of Princeton students.

ate today for confirmation. The roster is composed as follows: Secretary of State—William J. Bryan of Nebraska. Secretary of War—Lindley Garrison of New Jersey. Secretary of Navy—Josephus Daniels of North Carolina. Secretary of Treasury—William G. McAdoo of New York. Attorney General—J. C. McReynolds of New York. Secretary of the Interior—Franklin K. Lane, of California. Postmaster General—Albert S. Burleson of Texas. Secretary of Agriculture—David S. Houston of Missouri.

WOODROW WILSON.

THOMAS MARSHALL.

After receiving the oath of office and delivering his inaugural address in front of the capitol today, President Wilson and his party proceeded with ex-President Taft to the White House for lunch, after which they again took their stations on the reviewing stand to witness the great parade, which had halted while the party was at lunch. The parade in which the Charleroi Brigade takes part is expected to end at 5 o'clock. Announcement was made of President Wilson's cabinet last night and the nominations were sent to the sen-

Secretary of Commerce—William C. Redfield of New York. Secretary of Labor—William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania. Governor Tener and his staff arrived late yesterday afternoon. At Baltimore the governor's car was attached to a train containing a car of boy scouts. The youngsters besieged the governor until he addressed them. When he arrived he left his staff and the boys escorted him to the Hotel Raleigh. Gov. Tener received the most enthusiastic ovation of any of the governors and their staffs on their arrivals.

COUNCIL TO TAKE UP ORDINANCES

Two ordinances are to be considered by council tonight at its regular meeting. One is that presented by the West Side Electric Street Railway for permission to build and maintain a trolley line through a small part of the borough. This is on their proposed extension to Bentleyville. The other ordinance to be taken up will be for grading and paving Fallowfield avenue from Ninth street to the intersection of Fallowfield with Lincoln avenue.

A NEW REGIME.

Because the great Republican party failed to respond to the progressive public sentiment of the country, it was swept out of power, and scattered like chaff on the winds at the elections last fall, and for the first time in sixteen years, a new administration is at the helm. In the evolution of progress the human element is destined to predominate.
Government is made for the individual, not the individual for government. President Taft, a splendid character and a trained and capable administrator, failed to sense the aspirations and rights of the plain people. He stood for the domination of property rights over human rights, and was not in sympathy with direct and popular rule. Hence the deluge.

Probably no president faces so grave a crisis as does President Wilson. His administration faces a gi-gantic and growing economic and political revolution. The movement is now on that will result in sweeping away the last vestige of imperialism, which has elected that man was created for the government instead of government for the man. The great era of commercialism that subordinated the creation of wealth to the well-being of humanity is passing away and henceforth the clearly degned duty of society and government will be the welfare of the individual as a whole instead of the enrichment of the few. "Business" hereafter must include the party of the second part who creates and makes possible what in the commercial sense is termed business.

That these changes will be affected without clashes and confusion is not to be expected. President Wilson, although elected under one of the old party names is known to be

AN OBJECT LESSON.

The failure of the Washington police, if newspaper reports are true, to protect the parade of suffragets from hoodlumism and insult at the national capital, is another strong argument why women should get into politics. One of the chief arguments one constantly hears against the cause of woman suffrage is that
"politics is not fit for the women to participate in." If not, why not? If it is not fit for women, is it fit for men? The answer is painfully manifest in the rotten and corrupt government of American municipalities and state rings in the past.

The city or town that is able to boast that a woman can walk anywhere within its borders and be safe and free from insult has an asset that is heralded far and wide. It is a condition that every community strives to attain and one which every public service transportation corporation endeavors to enforce. Where woman is safe from insult is usually the ideal condition. If politics isn't fit for women it isn't fit for men, and when it is fit for one sex it is fit for the other. If the streets of Washington in times of special occasions are not fit for women to traverse, they are not fit for men. The hood-lumism displayed at Washington will have a salutary effect in arousing sentiment in favor of better government in the District of Columbia, and the American sense of fair play will give an impetus to the cause of woman suffrage.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Wilson at Princeton." is the title of some reminiscences of our new president, related by a former student in the New York Sun and which are analytical of the character of the man. Dr. Wilson was popular as president of Princeton because he believed in treating college men like men. In class one day he told us about a lady who came to talk with him about sending her son to Princeton. Dr. Wilson saw she was not entirely satisfied. Finally she admitted her grave misgivings.

"Dr. Wilson," she said, "I would like to send my boy to Princeton but I hear they drink so awfully here."
"Well, madam," he replied, "I cannot admit that Princeton is worse in this respect than other colleges but what would you have me do about it?"

"Why doctor, I'd have the boys watched," she replied with an air of finality.

"Did you ever stop to think how many proctors would be required to watch 1,400 boys?"

No she had not.
"Well, just about 1,400" said the president, "and then the boys would get away from them about half the time."

The anxious mother was cautiously but effectively silenced.

"Gentlemen, I feel like that mule on the Mississippi river steamboat."
And then Dr. Wilson would tell his favorite after dinner story. We college fellows were ready for a good one, for we were never disappointed when the president of the university was down for a talk.

"You see it used to be the custom to fasten tags to mules that were being taken down the river by boat, the name of their destination being written on the tag," Dr. Wilson would go on. "One day the captain was looking over the cargo and came to a mule whose tag was missing, although the string was there.

"Sam," said the captain to the colored boy in charge, "where's this mule going?"

"Don't know, suh," answered the boy, "guess he must 'a' et up whar he's a mule to."

"So, I'm afraid I've et up whar I've a mule to," concluded the president.
Whenever Dr. Wilson talked to us in class or out of class he had a way of getting us with him from the start with some anecdote or bit of pleasantry. And interest never lagged while he was talking, for there was always something worth listening to, whether the occasion was formal or informal.

Of the solemnity of the task to which he has now set his hand President Wilson is fully aware. The spirit in which he contemplates his responsibility has manifested itself on many occasions. He hopes for reform in many things, but he scouts the idea of revolution. How he feels may be illustrated by what he said one night at Sea Girt when he was at dinner with the newspaper men and the task before the next president was being discussed.

He said that a poor woman who was being aided by his daughter Jessie in one of the social settlement houses in Philadelphia had often expressed the wish that Mr. Wilson might be elected. When she was asked why, she said:

"Because bread is going to be cheaper then."

"Think of what is in that woman's mind, gentlemen," he said. "I have no doubt many think the same. To do that, but I must face the hopes
that give such ideas birth."

Had Tuberculosis of Glands; Now Well

If you are a sufferer from Glandular Tuberculosis, or know of anyone so afflicted, it might be well to investigate this case, where the writer declares after a year of suffering, he found permanent relief and full recovery to health by using Eckman's Alternative, a medicine which has been effective in many cases of Tuberculosis.

"Gentlemen,—In March, 1909, I was taken sick and my doctor pronounced my case Tuberculosis of the Glands.
Medicinal treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength and at times would have cold sweats and fever.
In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frigid condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep.
I continued using it until I was well, which was in November, 1910. Before I took the medicine, I had three honor-rhaiges, since I have been taking it, I have not had any. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness. I can highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis of Gland Trouble, providing they take it as directed. I will gladly correspond with any party desiring further information of what the medicine did for me." (Signed) JOSEPH B. WHITE.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in all glandular system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recovery and write to Eckman dence. For sale by all leading druggists.

North Charleroi Coun- cil to Advertise Pav- ing Contract

Burgess Harry W. Scott of North Charleroi was authorized by council of that borough at its regular meeting Monday evening to advertise for bids on the grading and paving of Fourth street from the new school building to Conrad avenue, a distance of about two squares. This constituted probably the most important action during a busy evening.

In the absence of President David Schafer who is ill, Councilman T. P.
Sloan was in the chair. Other councilmembers present were Samuel Gaskill, John I. Cope, Herman Nebulung and John Myers.

The North Charleroi Volunteer
Fire Department presented a request that council approve their plan to hold a carnival the week of May 12, at the orchard at the upper end of the borough, near the tipple end of the Carnegie Coal works. Council gave its approval. Application will now be made to the burgess. The Hatch Carnival company is negotiating to hold the carnival in North Charleroi. The borough has never had a carnival except as it has shared with Charleroi or Monessen. The firemen plan to raise money with which to secure equipment.

Bills amounting to $530.39 were ordered paid. This leaves a balance in the treasury of $4,234.68.

A MIGHTY REMEDY.

Cures Backache, Sideache and all Kidney, Liver and Bladder Diseases, or Money Back.

Yes, money back; that's the offer that Piper Brothers, and W. F. Hennings, the agents in Charleroi make if Thompson's Kidney Tablets fail to cure any of the above named diseases.

And when you stop to think, that's a wonderful generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering.

So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache, or pains in your side, if your urine is high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up, and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait when Thompson's Kidney Tablets are guaranteed to restore your health?

If you are not greatly benefitted take back the empty box to Piper Brothers or W. F. Hennings and get your money. Price 50 cents.

Suffragette Parade in Washington is Big Demonstration

Washington, March 4.—Never in the history of the country has the national capital been the scene of such a demonstration as was given Monday afternoon when thousands of women fought their way inch by inch down Pennsylvania avenue, through a mob of hooting, jeering men and boys whom the handful of police were unable to restrain. Such was the feeling of indignation among the members of the marching suffrage army at Continental Hall, where a big mass meeting was held following the parade, that Dr. Anna Shaw and other speakers denounced the treatment accorded the women as a "national disgrace."

In addition Dr. Shaw made an appeal to the women present who represent every state in the Union to protest against the lack of protection afforded the marchers to their congressmen and senators.

Troop D, of the 15th cavalry came to the rescue of the women and were able to clear the line of march from the treasury to Continental Hall so that the paraders were able to continue in safety and comfort. Insulting remarks were directed to the women along the two miles of march. Banners were spat upon and banner holders were torn from the hands of women and broken.

rol in Belgium was named after one of the Chalties, who ruled in early years over France.

The farms from which Charleroi was cut included portions of the McKean, Manown and Redd estates. Because of his activity, his loyalty, and his efforts in Charleroi's behalf day each. It simply followed in the natural course of events that the name "Railroad Crossing," which originated in 1870, or thereabouts, should be superseded by the musical sounding title "Charleroi." Char-

James S. McKean became known as "The Founder." He helped the town progress and gained for it a renown that it perhaps would not have gained otherwise. In time the large plants that are now important industrial parts came, including the Hussy-Binns Shovel factory, the Macbeth-Evans Glass factory, and the Hamilton Bottle factory, which lately was superseded by the Imperial Bottle factory, and the Charleroi Coal company for injuries received when a Glass company.

SCHOOL TO BE LATEST IN DESIGN

New Charleroi Structure to be Up-to-Date in Every Way

Charleroi's new school building, the foundation for which is now nearing completion, will be one of the finest and most up to date school buildings in western Pennsylvania, an one in which the citizens of Charleroi may well be proud. The contract for the foundation was let last fall to the Charleroi Lumber company, who are actively getting their part of the work finished. They have been somewhat handicapped by weather conditions but a few weeks of good weather will see the finishing touches put on their contract.

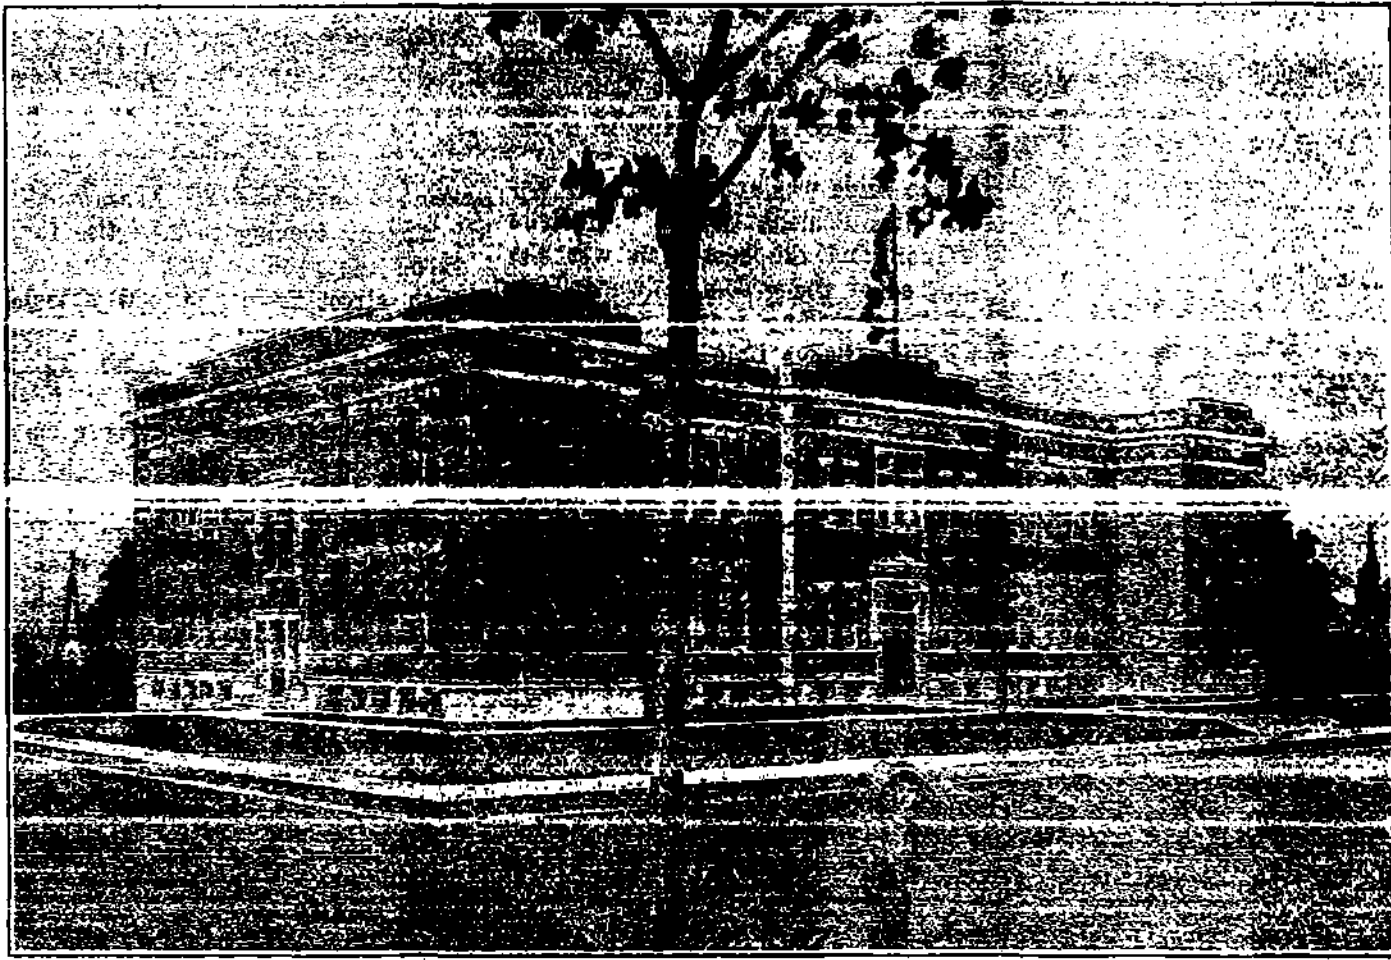

The contract for the superstructure has been awarded to the George N. Hall company of Homestead. This enterprising firm of contractors have been busy letting their sub-contractors and buying their materials and as soon as the foundation is completed expect to put a large force of men to work, and it is hoped that everything will be completed by the time school is opened next fall. The building is located at the corner of Crest avenue and Sixth street and from its prominent location, sitting on a hill as it does, it can be seen from almost any part of town and from points far up and down the river.

Andrew P. Cooper of Uniontown, Pa., who is the architect of the building is one of the most experienced school architects in this state, having designed in the neighborhood of ninety school buildings since starting to practice his profession, and he has given the Charleroi building the benefit of his wide experience. The plans he has furnished the Charleroi school building call for one of the most complete and modern school buildings he has ever erected.

At the left of the main entrance is the principal's office and the waiting room, to the right is the teachers' retiring room and supply room. On the first floor are six class rooms which vary in size to seat forty and fifty pupils. Each class room will be equipped with sanitary ventilated wardrobes. Damp clothes hung in these wardrobes will be thoroughly dried out in a few hours by the circulation of the air in the wardrobes. At opposite ends of the main corridor are placed the boys and girls toilet rooms, which will be equipped with the most sanitary plumbing fixtures. The entrance to the main floor of the auditorium is opposite the main entrance of the building. The auditorium is quite large, contains a stage 31 feet wide, and two dressing rooms and will seat on the main floor about six hundred people and on the balcony, which is on a level with the second floor of the building, about two hundred people.

This picture drawn by Architect A. P. Cooper shows the Charleroi school building as it will be when finished. The main entrance will be on Crest avenue. Six class rooms, a principal's room, waiting room, teachers' retiring room and main floor of auditorium will be on first floor, and six class rooms, two science laboratories, and the balcony of the auditorium on the second floor. A large gymnasium and two manual training rooms will be in the basement.

The second floor contains six class rooms, two science laboratories and the balcony of the auditorium; also toilet rooms. All public corridors throughout the building are of reinforced construction and are enclosed by hollow tile walls. The stairs are also of reinforced concrete and ornamental iron so that all means of exit from the building are absolutely fire proof. In the basement are two manual training rooms, a gymnasium 55x70 feet having rooms containing shower baths in connection. Large locker rooms are also provided for the boys and girls.

In the basement is located the heating and ventilating apparatus which is of the most modern type and especially adapted to school buildings. The temperature in all rooms is kept stationary by an automatic temperature control system and each scholar will be furnished with thirty cubic feet of air per minute. This air is drawn from the outside of the building and after being heated to the proper temperature is circulated through the rooms by means of a plan and exhausted out through ventilators in the roof. The plumbing system will be very complete and the fixtures will be of the most approved and sanitary type. Sanitary drinking fountains will be conveniently located in the corridors.

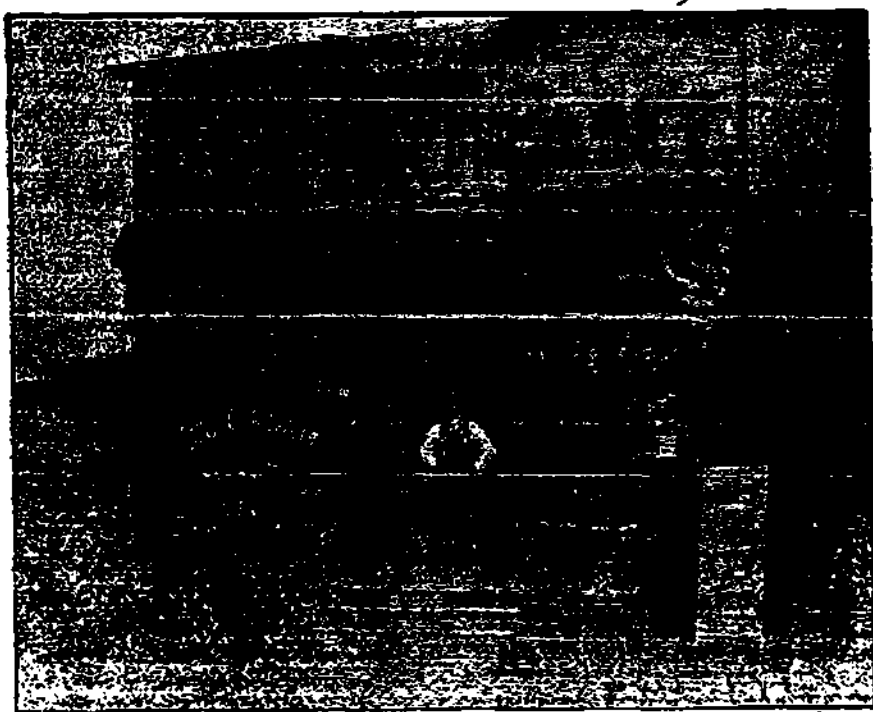

In the separate building to the right and rear of the main building will be located a hydro pneumatic deep well water system, supplying all water to be used in the building. The pump drawing water from the well

The inauguration of President-elect Woodrow Wilson is not the only important event of today, even if it does seem to hold supreme interest. And possibly the new president might not know it, and others might have forgotten, but nevertheless Charleroi, the "Magic City" of the richest valley in the world, is celebrating. It is 23 years old today. No special rites are arranged for today, but on Thursday night the Charleroi Business Men's Association will hold a banquet, when the history and attainments of the second largest borough in Washington county will be gravely discussed.

Past history of Charleroi is fascinating. Twenty-three years ago a sign "Railroad Crossing" distinguished the site of the town from the rest of the landscape. Haystacks

INAUGURAL PARADE IS BIG FEATURE

Washington, March 4.—Promptly at noon today began the exercises by which Woodrow Wilson was inaugurated into the presidency of the United States amid the pomp and ceremony incident to the occasion, and which exceeded many of the previous inaugurations in point of enthusiasm, attendance and display.

President Wilson and family made their triumphant entry into Washington yesterday, where they were most enthusiastically received. They visited President and Mrs. Taft at the White House and later the president-elect was given ovation after ovation by enthusiastic delegations, chief among which was a body of Princeton students.

Secretary of State—William J. Bryan of Nebraska.
Secretary of War—Lindley Garrison of New Jersey.
Secretary of Navy—Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.
Secretary of Treasury—William G. McAdoo of New York.
Attorney General—J. C. McReynolds of New York.
Secretary of the Interior—Franklin K. Lane, of California.
Postmaster General—Albert S. Burleson of Texas.
Secretary of Agriculture—David S. Houston of Missouri.

THOMAS MARSHALL.

After receiving the oath of office and delivering his inaugural address in front of the capitol today, President Wilson and his party proceeded with ex-President Taft to the White House for lunch, after which they again took their stations on the reviewing stand to witness the great parade, which had halted while the party was at lunch. The parade in which the Charleroi Brigade takes part is expected to end at 5 o'clock.

Announcement was made of President Wilson's cabinet last night and the nominations were sent to the sen-

Secretary of Commerce—William C. Redfield of New York.
Secretary of Labor—William B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.
Governor Tener and his staff arrived late yesterday afternoon. At Baltimore the governor's car was attached to a train containing a car of boy scouts. The youngsters beseege the governor until he addressed them. When he arrived he left his staff and the boys escorted him to the Hotel Raleigh. Gov. Tener received the most enthusiastic ovation of any of the governors and their staffs on their arrivals.

COUNCIL TO TAKE UP ORDINANCES

Two ordinances are to be considered by council tonight at its regular meeting. One is that presented by the West Side Electric Street Railway for permission to build and maintain a trolley line through a small part of the borough. This is on their proposed extension to Bentleyville. The other ordinance to be taken up will be for grading and paving Fallowfield avenue from Ninth street to the intersection of Fallowfield with Lincoln avenue.

A NEW REGIME.

party failed to respond to the progressive public sentiment of the
at the elections last fall, and for the first time in sixteen years, a new administration is at the helm. In the evolution of progress the human element is destined to predominate.
Government is made for the individual not the individual for government. President Taft, a splendid
administrator, failed to sense the aspirations and rights of the plain people. He stood for the domination of
property rights over human rights,
and popular rule. Hence the deluge.

grave a crisis as does President Wil-
son. His administration faces a gi-gantic and growing economic and political revolution. The movement
is now on that will result in sweeping away the last vestige of imperialism, which has elected that man
was created for the government instead of government for the man.
The great era of commercialism that
to the well-being of humanity is passing away and henceforth the clearly defined duty of society and government will be the welfare of the individual as a whole instead of the
enrichment of the few. "Business"
makes possible what in the commercial sense is termed business.

That these changes will be accomplished without clashes and confusion is
son, although elected under one of the old party names is known to be

AN OBJECT LESSON.

The failure of the Washington police, if newspaper reports are true,
from hoodlumism and insult at the
argument why women should get in-
to politics. One of the chief arguments one constantly hears against
"politics is not fit for the women to
it is not fit for women, is it fit for
government of American municipalities and state legislatures.

The city or town that is able to
and free from insult has an asset that is heeded far and wide. It
public service transportation corpora-
a woman is safe from insult is usually
fit for women it isn't fit for men,
for the other. If the streets of Washington in times of special occasions
are not fit for women to traverse,
have a salutary effect in arousing
sentiment in favor of better government in the District of Columbia, and the American sense of fair play will
man suffrage.

"Wilson at Princeton" is the title
president, related by a former student in the New York Sun and which
are analytical of the character of the man. Dr. Wilson was popular as
lieved in treating college men like
men. In class one day he told us about a lady who came to talk with
him about sending her son to Princeton. Dr. Wilson said she was not
mitted her grave misgivings.

"Dr. Wilson," she said "I would
I hear they drink so awfully here."
"Well, madam," he replied, "I can-
this respect than other colleges but what would you have me do about it?"

authority.

"Did you ever stop to think how
many proctors would be required to watch 1,400 boys?"

No she had not.

time."

The anxious mother was cautiously but effectively silenced.

"Gentlemen, I feel like that mule
on the Mississippi river steamboat."
college fellows were ready for a good
one for we were never disappointed
was down for a talk.

name of their destination being writ-
on "One day the captain was look-
whose tag was missing. A rougher the sting was the e."

"Sam" said the captain, "the colored boy in charge, where's this mule going?"

"Don't know wh' about it, the bar' guess he must a'er an' 'ar he's a 'caine to."

"So, I'm afraid I've let up where I oughtn't to," concluded the president.

Wherever Dr. Wilson talked to us in class or out of class he had a way
start with some anecdote or bit of pleasantness. And interest never lagged while he was talking, for there was always something to listen-
mal or informal.

which he has now set his hand President Wilson is fully aware. The
responsibility is manifest on many occasions. He hopes for reform in many things but he counts the idea of revolution. How he feels
may be illustrated by what he said
and the task before the next president was being discussed.

was being aided by his daughter Jessie in one of the social settlement
houses in Philadelphia had often expressed the wish that Mr. Wilson
might be elected when she was asked
why, she said

cheaper, then."

"Think of what is in that woman's
never seen such ideas birth."

Had Tuberculosis of Glands; Now Well

Tuberculosis or know of anyone so
afflicted, it might be well to investigate
using Eckman's Alternative, a medicine
of Tuberculosis.

251 Laruston St., Phila., Pa.
"Gentlemen—In March 1909 I was
taken sick and my doctor pronounced
my case Tuberculosis of the Glands.
Medical treatment did not help me and
on my doctor's advice, I went to a hos-
times would have cold sweats and fever.
In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital
but the continued operations were not effective."

"In the meantime, a friend of mine
advised Eckman's Alternative saying it
fraternal condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I
weight, could eat and was able to sleep.
I continued using it until I was well.
Which was in November 1910. Before I took the medicine I had three hemorrhages, since I have been taking it, I have not had any. On November 11, 1910 I started to work and since that time I have not lost one day's work
mend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis or
as directed. I will gladly correspond
mation of what the medicine did for me."

Lung Trouble, and in unbinding the

cilmembers present were Samuel Gaskill,

hold a carnival the week of May 12,
at the orchard at the upper end of the borough, near the tippie end of the Carnegie Coal works. Council
gave its approval. Application will now be made to the burgess. The Hatch Carnival company is negotiating to hold the carnival in North Charleroi. The borough has never
ed with Charleroi or Monessen. The
which to secure equipment.

Bills amounting to $530.39 were ordered paid. This leaves a balance
in the treasury of $1,234.68.

Mrs. Hamilton Tells How She Finally Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Warren Ind.—"I was bothered terribly with female weakness. "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now in good health. If it had not been for that medicine I would have been in my grave a long time ago."—Mrs. ARTIE E. HAMILTON, R.F.D. No. 6, Warren, Ind.

Another Case.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and commenced to gain in a short time and I am a well woman today. I am on my feet from early morning until late at night running a boarding house and do all my own work. I hope that many suffering women will try your medicine. It makes happier wives and mothers."—Mrs. ANNA HANSEN, Esmond, Rhode Island.

Yes, money back; that's the offer that Piper Brothers, and W. F. Hennings, the agents in Charleroi make if Thompson's Kidney Tablets fail to cure any of the above named diseases.

And when you stop to think, that's a wonderful generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering.

So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache, or any of the above named diseases, get high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up, and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait when Thompson's Kidney Tablets are guaranteed to restore your health?

If you are not greatly benefited take back the empty box to Piper Brothers or W. F. Hennings, and get your money. Price 50 cents.

Suffragette Parade in Washington is Big Demonstration

Washington, March 4.—Never in the history of the country has the national capital been the scene of such a demonstration as was given Monday afternoon when thousands of women fought their way inch by inch down Pennsylvania avenue, through a mob of hooting, jeering men and boys whom the handful of police were unable to restrain. Such was the feeling of indignation among the members of the marching suf- frage army at Continental Hall, where a big mass meeting was held follow- ing the parade, that Dr. Anna Shaw and other speakers denounced the treatment accorded the women as a "national disgrace."

In addition Dr. Shaw made an ap- peal to the women present who rep- resent every state in the Union to protest against the lack of protection afforded the marchers to their congressmen and senators.

Troop D, of the 15th cavalry came to the rescue of the women and were able to clear the line of march from the treasury to Continental Hall so that the paraders were able to continue in safety and comfort. In- sulting remarks were directed to the women along the two miles of march. Banners were spat upon and banner holders were torn from the hands of women and broken.

IDEAS that impel attention and improve busi- ness are always best presented in good ink work.

IMPORTANT communications imbued with that intangible something which incites in- terest, initiates investigations, and instigates immediate inquiries, demand immaculate print- ing.

INK imagination is not an innovation in this print shop. Ideals in illuminative inking and incisive impression are high here, but our imprint does not increase the in- expensiveness of our product.
